

The Mad Hatter's Tea Party

Mr. Dormouse was sleepily climbing out of the tea pot having just awoken from a very comfortable sleep, he saw not too far way Mr. Rabbit.

‘I say Mr. Rabbit, what time do you make it?’

Very importantly Mr. Rabbit took out his pocket watch, placing his umbrella under his arm and pausing for a little extra dramatisation before answering,

‘I make it precisely Tea Time...
.....Now!’

He said with a flurry, and then replaced the pocket watch from whence it came.

‘Tea Time’ said the Mad Hatter, ‘Tea Time... well if that’s the time, it must be time for a cup of Mad Hatter Tea.

From somewhere, or was it thin air, who can be certain, cakes simply appeared, from nowhere, as did the teapot.

Mr. Hatter said, ‘I’ll play mother’ and poured out a nice hot cup of tea for all his guests and one for himself too.

I do wish I’d been there...

